

Listen, you people are really starting to lose it. First you want take away public radio that YOU deem offensive and don't want to give me my choice to listen or not to listen. But now you want to barge into a system that I actually pay for every month, and take that away from me too. When do you start giving the power back to the people. I have friends in Russia that don't deal with this much political garbage. I need the FREEDOM that XM Radio provides to me and I pay good money for it. I am praying that when you pull the plug on Howard Stern, which I'm sure you will, that he will end up on XM. But that won't be good enough will it. You have to have your hands in every cookie jar that has any crumbs in it at all! I beg of you, please stay out of my decision making, I certainly don't get involved in yours. Leave XM Radio alone!
